Dear Mr Marshall,

JAN 20 2006 00063

I am writing in response to the South Delta Improvement project (SDIP) DEIR/S.

This project seems to have an unneccessary goal: why do we need to increase pumping from the Delta, when the state's own draft California Water Plan Update states that we can meet all of our water needs well into the future by increasing efficiency and reclamation of urban and agricultural water use?

Given the unfolding biological collapse in the Delta, I ask that you withdraw the SDIP DEIR/S completely. Or amend it so that it would actually improve the south Delta → by decreasing the pumping from today's levels.

Please include me on your mailing list to be notified of any decisions or activities concerning this project.

Sincerely

Joseph G Petrofsky
